

SCHINELLA.

51 Murray Street Albert Park SA

This character residence is certainly not dressed in its' Sunday best! Set on a large allotment of approximately 725sqm, it is ripe and ready for a renovator, developer or someone looking for a full-size family allotment on which to build their dream home.

Some elbow grease from a brave renovator could certainly restore this stone-fronted bungalow to its' former glory - a smart renovation and extension and one could create a substantial family residence. For others the block may be the ideal site to start from scratch and design your own home.

Developers may take advantage of the 725sqm allotment and create a multi-dwelling development (stcc).

This property offers numerous options for the astute, brave and willing! Close to local schools, public transport links
